

NHRID Presents...

“IT’S NOT EQUALITY, IT’S EQUITY”

John S. Pirone Ed.D

Saturday, June 23, 2018, 9-4pm

This workshop provides interactive discussion on the concept of equality/equity, what the experiences of Deaf college students mean for the profession of ASL/English interpreting, and recommendations for increasing equitable access. In the morning, we will look at the meaning of ASL competence, intercultural competence, professionalism, and the concept of equality/equity. The afternoon will focus on John's doctoral dissertation's findings concerning the experiences of Deaf college students with interpreters during their academic participation (classes)

Working Interpreters and students welcome to attend with an emphasis on Interpreters in the college setting
